

Typology Strips

Directions: Copy and cut the following two charts into strips, shuffle the strips, and hand them out in sets to students for them to complete Applying Typology.

Sacrifice of Isaac	Sacrifice of Christ
Abraham offers his beloved son.	God the Father offers up His beloved Son.
Isaac carries the wood for his sacrifice.	Christ carries His wooden Cross.
Isaac's sacrifice takes place on Mount Moriah.	Christ's sacrifice takes place on Golgotha, which is a hill of Mount Moriah.
Isaac submits to Abraham.	Christ submits to the Father and willingly goes to His Death.
God provides the sacrifice (a ram).	God provides the sacrifice (Jesus).
On the third day of their journey, Isaac survives the sacrifice.	Jesus conquers death and rises on the third day.
Isaac is bound to the wood of the altar.	Jesus is nailed to a wooden Cross.

Isaac is conceived through divine help.	By the Holy Spirit, Jesus was Incarnate of the Virgin Mary.
Isaac's mother was assured of God's goodness and omnipotence.	Jesus' Mother was assured of God's goodness and omnipotence.

The Passover	The Eucharist/Crucifixion
The paschal lamb	Jesus Christ
Moses instructs the Israelites to sacrifice a year-old (in its prime) male lamb that is without blemish.	Jesus sacrifices Himself on the Cross when He is 33 (in the prime of life), is male, and is without sin.
Not a bone of the lamb is to be broken.	Jesus' bones are not broken on the Cross.
The lamb is to be sacrificed in an assembly at evening twilight.	Jesus is crucified in front of a crowd and dies at 3 p.m. (evening twilight).
Moses emphasizes five times that the Israelites must eat the lamb.	In John 6, Jesus emphasizes five times that we must eat His flesh.
The firstborn Jews were saved by the lamb's blood.	Christians are saved by Christ's blood.

The Israelites	The whole human race
The Jews were saved from physical death.	Christians are saved from spiritual death.
Unleavened bread must be used to celebrate the Passover.	Christ transforms unleavened bread into His body while celebrating the new Passover.
The Passover is celebrated in preparation for departure to the Promised Land.	The Eucharist is celebrated to prepare us for Heaven, the new Promised Land.
Passover meal	The Last Supper and the Holy Sacrifice of the Mass
